

Take Home a Riggs Beer: Growlers

It is illegal to consume growler contents on premise. These containers are for take-home only.

1. Buy an empty growler, or bring your own clean growler for a refill

2. Choose a fill

Beer Style	32/40 oz	64 oz
American Lager	$ 7	$ 12
Hefeweizen	$ 7	$ 12
Red Lager	$ 9	$ 14
India Pale Lager	$ 9	$ 14
Barleywine	$ 18	$ 28
All other Seasonals	$ 9	$ 14

Growlers can be reused many times. We will only fill clean growlers. If you have 64 oz. glass growler, we will provide you with new cap for every fill. If you have a different size growler, you must bring your own cap.

We suggest you drink your growler within 2-3 days to enjoy its freshest taste.

If you bring a growler in a size other than 64 oz. or 40 oz., we will fill it but charge you for the next larger size.

Kegs directly from the brewery

Keg purchases directly from the brewery are only legal for private events.
If you carry a liquor license, please contact your local beer distributor.

2. Do you need a party pump?

For your convenience we rent party-pumps. This will allow you to tap beer directly from the keg. You won't need any additional equipment. But please be aware that the party-pump introduces oxygen into the keg, which will cause the beer to stale quickly. So for maximum freshness, we recommend emptying the keg the same night of tapping it. A party pump is the ideal solution for a one-time event such as a wedding, party, or tailgate.

The beer will stay fresh much longer if you use a kegerator with a CO2 pressure system. If you have a kegerator, you won't need a pump.

3. Reserve it and be aware of fees!

Keg supplies are limited. We are happy to reserve a keg for you several weeks out, even before the beer is brewed. Just call the brewery at 217-718-5345 to check availability or to reserve a keg.

There is a $100 refundable deposit for each keg. If you need a party-pump, there is an additional $100 deposit required. All deposits need to be made in cash on the pickup day and are fully refundable if the kegs/pumps are returned in a condition as expected after normal use.

There is also a $5 rental fee for the party pump. This covers our cost for cleaning the equipment. The rental fee is due upon return of the equipment.
